

Vendor Woo

Terms & Conditions

Last Updated: September 18, 2026

1. About VendorWoo

VendorWoo is a global B2B e-commerce marketplace operated from China that connects businesses, buyers, manufacturers, suppliers, wholesalers, and other commercial customers worldwide. VendorWoo provides a platform through which products may be displayed, purchased, and supplied to business customers. VendorWoo may facilitate product listings, order processing, payment processing, communication, shipping coordination, and other marketplace services.

2. Eligibility

To use VendorWoo, you must be legally capable of entering into binding agreements, provide accurate and complete registration information, use the Platform for lawful business purposes, and comply with all applicable laws, regulations, import requirements, export requirements, and trade restrictions applicable to your location. If you are using VendorWoo on behalf of a company or organization, you confirm that you have authority to act on behalf of that entity.

3. Account Registration

Certain features may require you to create an account. You are responsible for providing accurate information, keeping login credentials confidential, maintaining account security, all activities carried out through your account, and notifying VendorWoo promptly of suspected unauthorized access. VendorWoo may suspend or terminate accounts containing inaccurate, misleading, fraudulent, or incomplete information.

4. B2B Marketplace Use

VendorWoo is primarily intended for business-to-business transactions. Products may be purchased for wholesale, resale, commercial use, manufacturing, distribution, business operations, or private-label purposes. Buyers are responsible for determining whether a product is suitable for their intended commercial use and complies with laws and regulations of the destination country.

5. Products and Product Information

VendorWoo aims to provide accurate product information, including descriptions, specifications, images, quantities, prices, and availability. Product information may be provided or updated by suppliers and manufacturers. Minor differences between product images, descriptions, packaging, colors, dimensions, or specifications may occur. Buyers should review product information carefully before ordering. For customized, private-label, or specially manufactured products, agreed specifications may apply.

6. Prices

Product prices may change without prior notice and may depend on quantity, specifications, customization, packaging, shipping destination, shipping method, applicable taxes or duties, and supplier pricing. The final price payable by the buyer will be shown during the applicable checkout or order process. Unless expressly stated otherwise, prices do not necessarily include customs duties, import taxes, VAT, brokerage charges, or destination-country charges.

7. Orders

When you place an order through VendorWoo, you submit a request to purchase the selected products. An order may be subject to confirmation, availability, payment authorization, supplier confirmation, or other verification.

VendorWoo may cancel or reject orders where products are unavailable, there is an obvious pricing or listing error, payment cannot be verified, fraud or suspicious activity is detected, the transaction violates applicable law, shipping is unavailable, or the order contains prohibited or restricted products.

8. Payments

VendorWoo may process payments for orders placed through the Platform. Payment methods may vary by location, currency, transaction value, payment provider, and other factors. By submitting payment information, you authorize VendorWoo or its designated payment service provider to process the applicable transaction.

VendorWoo may use third-party payment processors.

9. Payment Verification

VendorWoo may conduct payment verification, identity verification, transaction monitoring, or fraud prevention checks. An order may be placed on hold or cancelled if payment information cannot be verified, fraud is suspected, or the transaction violates applicable law or payment-provider requirements. Additional information may be requested to verify a transaction.

10. Shipping and Delivery

Shipping arrangements may vary by product, supplier, buyer location, shipping method, order quantity, customs requirements, and carrier availability. Estimated delivery times are estimates and are not guaranteed unless expressly stated otherwise. Delays may result from customs inspections, weather, carrier disruptions, holidays, regulatory requirements, or other circumstances outside VendorWoo's reasonable control.

11. Customs, Duties and Taxes

International buyers may be responsible for customs duties, import taxes, VAT, brokerage fees, clearance charges, and other charges imposed by the destination country. Buyers are responsible for understanding and complying with import requirements applicable to their country. VendorWoo does not guarantee that a particular product can legally be imported into every country.

12. Returns and Refunds

Return and refund eligibility may depend on product type, order terms, product condition, reason for return, customization, shipping status, and applicable law. Customized, private-label, made-to-order, or specially manufactured products may not be eligible for return unless defective, incorrectly supplied, or otherwise covered by applicable law or an agreed return policy. Buyers may be required to provide evidence such as photographs, videos, inspection reports, or shipping records.

13. Damaged, Defective or Incorrect Products

If you receive a product that is damaged, defective, materially different from agreed specifications, or incorrect, contact VendorWoo within the applicable claim period. VendorWoo may request evidence. Depending on the circumstances, VendorWoo may offer a replacement, partial refund, full refund, return, or another appropriate resolution, subject to applicable law.

14. Product Inspection

For larger B2B orders, VendorWoo may offer or facilitate product inspection or quality-control services where available. Inspection services do not necessarily guarantee that every unit in an order is free from defects. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, buyers remain responsible for selecting products and confirming specifications appropriate for their business requirements.

15. Prohibited Products and Activities

Users may not use VendorWoo to purchase, sell, promote, distribute, or facilitate transactions involving products or activities that violate applicable laws or VendorWoo policies. This includes illegal drugs, counterfeit products, stolen goods, fraudulent products, unauthorized branded products, products infringing intellectual-property rights, illegal weapons or prohibited weapon-related products, hazardous or restricted goods without required approvals, products prohibited by applicable trade sanctions, and products intended for illegal activities.

16. Intellectual Property

All trademarks, logos, designs, software, content, text, graphics, images, and other materials owned or licensed by VendorWoo are protected by applicable intellectual-property laws. Users may not copy, reproduce, modify, distribute, publish, sell, or commercially exploit VendorWoo's intellectual property without prior written permission. Users must ensure that uploaded product materials do not infringe third-party rights.

17. User Content

Users may submit product information, images, reviews, documents, messages, specifications, and other content. Users represent that they have the necessary rights to submit the content, that it is accurate to the best of their knowledge, lawful, and non-infringing. Users grant VendorWoo a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license to use, reproduce, display, modify, and distribute submitted content as reasonably necessary to operate, promote, and improve the Platform.

18. Reviews and Feedback

Reviews, ratings, comments, and feedback must be genuine and must not contain false information, fraudulent claims, abusive or threatening content, personal information of others, illegal content, or promotional spam. VendorWoo may remove content that violates these Terms or applicable policies.

19. Privacy

VendorWoo may collect and process information necessary to provide services, process orders, communicate with users, prevent fraud, provide customer support, and comply with legal obligations. Use of personal information is also subject to VendorWoo's Privacy Policy.

20. Third-Party Services

VendorWoo may use third-party providers for payment processing, shipping, logistics, customs, identity verification, fraud prevention, analytics, communication, and technology infrastructure. Third-party services may be subject to their own terms and privacy policies.

21. Platform Availability

VendorWoo aims to maintain reliable access to the Platform but does not guarantee that it will always be available, uninterrupted, secure, or error-free. The Platform may be unavailable because of maintenance, technical issues, security incidents, infrastructure failures, third-party service interruptions, or events beyond VendorWoo's reasonable control.

22. Account Suspension and Termination

VendorWoo may suspend or terminate an account where it reasonably believes that a user violated these Terms, engaged in fraud, provided false information, misused the Platform, attempted to circumvent payment or security systems, violated applicable laws, infringed intellectual-property rights, or created significant risk to VendorWoo or other users.

23. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, VendorWoo will not be responsible for indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive losses arising from use of the Platform or a transaction, including loss of profits, business opportunities, revenue, business interruption, data, or third-party claims. Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits liability that cannot legally be excluded or limited.

24. Indemnification

To the extent permitted by applicable law, you agree to indemnify and hold VendorWoo and its affiliates, officers, employees, agents, and service providers harmless from claims, losses, liabilities, damages, costs, and expenses arising from your violation of these Terms, unlawful use of the Platform, violation of third-party rights, products or listings, breach of applicable laws or regulations, or misuse of another user's information or account.

25. Force Majeure

VendorWoo will not be responsible for delays or failures caused by circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including natural disasters, war, government actions, epidemics, strikes, transportation disruptions, internet failures, supply-chain disruptions, customs restrictions, or similar events.

26. International Transactions

Because VendorWoo operates internationally, transactions may be subject to laws and regulations in multiple jurisdictions. Users are responsible for applicable import laws, export laws, customs requirements, product regulations, sanctions, tax obligations, consumer or business regulations, and licensing requirements. VendorWoo may restrict transactions involving certain countries, products, individuals, or entities where required by law or internal compliance policies.

27. Dispute Resolution

If you have a dispute with VendorWoo, first contact VendorWoo customer support and attempt to resolve the matter informally. For disputes that cannot be resolved informally, the dispute may be subject to the governing law and dispute-resolution procedures applicable to VendorWoo's registered legal entity and jurisdiction. The exact governing law, arbitration rules, venue, and jurisdiction should be inserted once VendorWoo's final registered legal entity and applicable legal structure are confirmed.

28. Changes to These Terms

VendorWoo may update these Terms from time to time. Updated Terms will be published on the Platform with a revised "Last Updated" date. Continued use of VendorWoo after updated Terms become effective constitutes acceptance of the revised Terms, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

29. Severability

If any provision of these Terms is determined to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable, that provision will be limited or removed to the minimum extent necessary, while the remaining provisions will continue to apply.

30. Entire Agreement

These Terms, together with applicable policies and agreements referenced within them, constitute the agreement between you and VendorWoo regarding use of the Platform, unless a separate written agreement applies to a particular transaction.

31. Contact Us

Vendor Woo

Website: vendorwoo.com

Email: vendorwoofficial@gmail.com

32. Acceptance

By creating an account, placing an order, making a payment, accessing, or using VendorWoo, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agreed to these Terms & Conditions.

